TRAPEZODAL COFFEE TABLE XYZ

Design by Paolo Giordano

This is a project whose central focus is on visual perception. The eye regards and doesn't withdraw its gaze until has a clear perception of object it observes. 90° angles, obtuse angles, oblique and perpendicular cuts press the forms into almost 2D shapes. These slender structures bring us back to essential volumes along the axis that we call depth, more precisely the Z axis of 3D drawings.
